

An aerial photograph of an industrial area. A red line is drawn across the image, indicating the placement of barricades. The line starts at a small red segment at a street intersection in the upper left, then continues as a long red segment across a wide road, and finally ends as a small red segment at another intersection on the right. The area contains various industrial buildings, parking lots with many vehicles, and some open fields.

Between Grand Caillou Rd and the Intracoastal Waterway Tunnel, barricades will be positioned to improve the flow of traffic for public safety between the hours of 3:00 PM and 6:00 PM. No U-turns will be allowed.
